Description

Teardrop shaped silver cup (a) with a tubular stem and a flared base. The top half of the cup has concave vertical indentations, a round lip, stepped levels at the shoulder, and lightly incised twisting design on the bottom of the cup. The stem has a narrow section just below the cup and just above the pedestal base, with a wider, rounded bead-like midsection with a twisting design. The flared base has a flattened, rounded area just below the stem, concave indentations on the body of the pedestal, and stepped levels at the bottom. The bombilla (b) has a tubular stem with twisted sections at the top half, one section going one way, and the other the opposite, a flattened bite, and a large, pierced, slightly flattened and rounded strainer at the bottom.
