Medium

Metal, wood

Description

Small penca de balangandãs formed of a shiny silver-colored metal "handle" with stamped floral forms on the top half. There is a bird on each side and the bottom is toothed and pierced for the attachment of nine "charms". The charm-like forms include six round fruits with leaves, a small dark hardwood fist with a silver metal bracelet, with the thumb positioned between the index and third finger, an ear of corn, and a bunch of grapes. The charms, "hanger" and bracelet all appear to be of different colored metals.
