

Basic Detail Report

Lantern

Date

Late 19th century

Primary Maker

Kevork

Medium

Metal (brass)

Description

This lantern has a circular lid at the top on which a number of fragmented diamond shaped holes are present.

The lid is also surrounded by a circle composed of square holes. The handle on the top has a moveable hook in the middle. When lifted with a handle the lantern will extend like an accordion. The diamond shaped holes are present along the boundary on the bottom of the lantern. On the bottom is also a floral element situated in the middle with six bigger protruding parts and six smaller ones around the circle of the floral element.

Dimensions

11 X 11 X 12 (when fully extended)