

St. George and the Dragon

Date

c. 1985

Primary Maker

Stanislaw Suska

Medium

Wood, paint

Description

Sculpture of St. George slaying the dragon all carved out of one piece of wood. St George is seated on his horse, which is rearing up its hind legs, with his spear in the body of the dragon. The dragon is a light gray color, laying on its back and is blowing fire out of its mouth. All of the figures are on the same base painted green to represent grass.

Dimensions

15 1/2 × 12 × 4 3/4 in. (39.3701 × 30.4801 × 12.065 cm)