Basic Detail Report

Bowl

Date

First half of 19th century

Medium

Alamo knot(?), cottonwood

Description

Hollowed from alamo knot, cut across log so that ends show tree rings on outside of both narrow ends. Originally had ground or shaped rim. Has been used for cooking, apparently, as inside is charred. Split on bottom was patched with small tin patch. Old HS list states this was from "La Puebla," a small avillage on the Chimayo river between Santa Cruz and Chimayo. Acquired April 10, 1911.
